

According to Sidney Skolsky's column, George Brent is an expert chess player. It would be interesting to see a match between him and Ray Milland, who is generally considered one of Hollywood's best chess players.