E d i t o r i a l C o m m e n t O n PRESENTING THE WEST COAST RATINGS OF JANUARY 1959

The Pacific Coast CHESS HERALD takes great pleasure and pride in presenting the West Coast Ratings as compiled by Robert A. Karch of San Lorenzo, California. Many hours (months-- and even years) were spent to arrive at these ratings. True, some may not be exact, nor to certain players' likings. Those that may appear to be a little off probably were not backed up by as many past records as others simply because such records could not be had by the compiler. As many tournament records as could be found were used in the computations. We wish to thank those many persons that cooperated with us by sending in tourney results from all over the West. Now we hope the majority will like the results in the following pages.

Not Fly-By-Night

The West Coast Ratings are not a "fly-by-night" listing. Though Mr. Karch may not know where he will be from one year to the next since he is an Army man, his records will always be intact. Not only that, but Bob has so simplified the system that anybody with a little common sense can carry on the work when he is unable to do so.

We do not wish to compare this system with the Harkness System. For one thing the breakdown is somewhat different to start with. In most cases the regional players listed may find themselves rated slightly higher in the West Coast Ratings than they are in the National Ratings. The reason for this is because every type of tournament is covered whereas many are not rated by U.S.C.F. As pointed out in a previous edition we do not wish to frown on the National Ratings. We merely feel that this regional system will cover more players in our particular area and thus create more interest in chess itself. Your editor firmly believes this kind of regional rating system should be developed throughout the United States with the findings fed to a central Rating System for National Listings from time to time. Such a system should prove more accurate since many more players and many more tournaments are rated in such a manner.

Even Better In Future

The West Coast Ratings should prove to be even better and more accurate in the future. As it is recognized regionally we believe more people will be willing to cooperate with the effort and thus supply tournament results to us. The idea, of course, is to cover all the tournaments we possibly can that are held here in the Far West. You may notice as you glance through the list that we have a few players listed from Eastern states. The reason for this is because these few Easterners have participated in Far West tournaments. Should the regional system eventually be developed throughout the United States, these few mixed in ratings would act as excellent cross files for the Central System. In the case of national tournaments the Central System could rate them and send their findings to the various regional systems.
